

And the world's unhappiest country is, officially...

You thought bankrupt Greece or borderline Portugal? Forget it.

War-torn Sudan or Sri Lanka? Relatively happy on this scale.

Mob-ruled Mexico? Positively beaming.

The world's unhappiest country, according the annual IPSOS survey, is Hungary.

It has always been a morose place, but it's down 4 percent this year and falling. This racist government is getting everyone down.

The happiest land, by the way, is Indonesia. Book your flights now.

(Thanks to composer John Donne for links)

